

News from the National Library of Technology 01/2026

Greetings in the New Year. We hope that this year, too, you will continue to move closer to your goals with every step you take. We would be delighted to be one of the useful stops on your journey. We believe we have something to offer everyone who is interested!

We are kicking off the new year with a bang. You can read about everything we offer in the first issue of our newsletter.

Build Strong Academic Skills: Free NTK Webinars for Students and Researchers

The summer semester is just around the corner, and we are ready to support you at every step of your studies and research. Whether you are just finding your way in the academic world or already working on your first publication, our webinars will offer you practical tips and tools as well as space for reflection.

In March and April, we invite you to a series of free online webinars on how to search for information effectively, cite correctly, manage data, publish in repositories, and use artificial intelligence responsibly and meaningfully. You can also look forward to tips on academic writing and navigating both the Web of Science & Scopus databases and the Zenodo repository.

Join us from the comfort of your desk, ask our instructors for advice, and gain inspiration for the next stage of your project. You can find the detailed program on our website:

- 4. 3. od 10:00 – Navigating Scientific Resources & Staying Organized
- 11. 3. od 10:00 – Academic Integrity

- 18. 3. od 10:00 – Searching and Evaluating on Web of Science & Scopus
- 25. 3. od 10:00 – My First Scientific Article
- 1. 4. od 10:00 – Searching for and Evaluating Journals and Conferences
- 8. 4. od 10:00 – Introduction to Research Data Management
- 15. 4. od 10:00 – AI Essentials for Academia
- 22. 4. od 10:00 – Dataset preparation and publishing – Zenodo and other repositories

Data Infrastructure and Information Management. Discover more about our Exhibitions

Visit the 4th floor between sectors A and B, where we are continuously preparing exhibitions of printed and electronic books for you. February's exhibition will focus on data infrastructure and information management. You can consult the printed publications on site or borrow them for home use. You can browse through the electronic books using the attached QR codes.

Blank Page to Brilliance

Now term exams are over, a new semester has begun, and, yes, your thesis deadline may be looming. Are you staring at a blank page, unsure where to begin? Don't hesitate to come to us for advice. We can help you with getting the structure right, finding all the relevant literature, and mastering citation. So stop procrastinating and book a free individual consultation.

New Semester, New Knowledge with NTK E-resources

With the summer semester approaching, we would like to remind you of the wealth of opportunities offered by NTK's electronic resources. Did you know that NTK is the only library in the Czech Republic offering certain e-resources?

Only here can you access the digital archive of architect Le Corbusier, containing over 38,000 notes, sketches, drafts, drawings, and photographs.

Another EIZ offered exclusively by the NTK in the Czech Republic is database AccessScience. This resource is one of the largest and most renowned encyclopedic works, based on the famous McGraw-Hill Encyclopedia of Science and Technology, McGraw-Hill Yearbook of Science and Technology, and McGraw-Hill Dictionary of Scientific and Technical Terms.

NTK Updates for Researchers across Career Stages

Are you an early-career researcher looking to advance your studies and career? Are you in a senior position and engaged in mentoring young colleagues? Do you want to stay up to date on transferable skills and career development in science? Subscribe to our special NTK newsletter tailored to your needs. Twice a semester, we send out a summary of the most important news from NTK and its partners so you won't miss any great opportunities.

The NTK Team

This email has been automatically sent to National Library of Technology patrons.

You can unsubscribe or resubscribe using your NTK account.